

In negotiation, focus on (basic interests, mutually satisfying options, fair standard)

Define interest – what you want

Define position – where you stand on an issue, sometimes represents an opinion

Define objective – without bias, without personal bias/view

Methods for successful negotiation

- separate people from problem
- focus on interests, not position
- invent options for mutual gain
- use objective criteria
- Don't bargain over positions